Podocarpus henkelii

Long-Leafed Yellowwood / This beautiful evergreen tree is suitable for both home gardens and large landscapes. It's frequently used as a screen because it has a naturally dense character. It's glossy, long, weeping leaves make it an attractive background in any landscape.

Nerium o. 'Single Pink'

Oleander / This plant is tough and versatile with showy flowers spring through fall. The narrow, dark green leaves are attractive in all seasons. Commonly used as a screen, informal hedge or colorful accent. It is fast growing, requires little water & maintenance and is tolerant of poor soils.

Strelitzia reginae

Giant Bird of Paradise / Get a tropical look without the tropical watering requirement. The Giant Bird is a good focal point or screen for small gardens and used regularly in commercial landscapes. It's a great plant for large containers used both inside and out. Inside it's used in malls and airports all over the country. Great for pool side plantings as they produce almost no litter!
