FALL is for PLANTING

We live in a beautiful, mild climate and can pretty much plant whatever we want, any time of the year. However, there are some benefits to planting in the fall. The top five reasons to plant right now are:

- The cooler weather in the Fall allows young plants to develop a strong root system to better handle warmer temperatures in the spring.
- Plants sensitive to the hot summer sun are more easily acclimated when planted in the fall.
- Football season is here. Put in some attractive new plants to show off your yard when you invite your friends over to watch the game.
- Cool season annuals are beautiful. Pansies, Iceland Poppies and Snapdragons provide vibrant color in the cooler months.
- Plan your spring garden and plant your perennials now.
